Govt fails to meet housing construction target. In the face of Namibia's 300,000-unit housing backlog, the Ministry of Urban and Rural Development has failed to meet a target to deliver 5,000 homes annually. The government last year also set out to service 6,500 plots annually. It said the country had an estimated housing backlog of around 300,000 units, with an estimated backlog of 84,000 units in Windhoek only. According to the latest budget books, the ministry strived to construct 5,000 houses for the 2021/22 financial year, but managed to build only 1,479. It serviced only 1,751 plots. – The Namibian

Nam stuck on junk heap. Fitch Ratings on Friday affirmed government's debt in foreign currencies, excluding the rand, at two notches below investment status. The global rating agency, one of the top three in the world, affirmed Namibia's Long-Term Foreign-Currency Issuer Default Rating (IDR) at 'BB-' with a Stable Outlook. According to Fitch, a BB rating means an "elevated vulnerability to default risk". Moody's, also one of the top three credit ratings agencies in the world, rates Namibia's IDR at B1, meaning government's debt in foreign currency falls in a "highly speculative" bracket. Namibia was first rated as junk by Moody's and Fitch in 2017. Namibia has had four sub-investment downgrades by the agencies. – Market Watch
