N$690m budget to drive Swakopmund's growth. The Swakopmund Municipal Council has tabled an ambitious budget plan for the 2024-2025 fiscal year, focusing on infrastructure development, housing and maintenance geared towards sustainable growth. The chairperson of the management committee Blasius Goraseb tabled the council's budget, which totals N$690 million, on Wednesday evening. The budget, comprising 84% operating and 16% capital expenditure, is set to drive significant growth and improvements in the town. The council has approved a capital budget of N$111.7 million and N$578.2 million for the operational budget. Goraseb said the council's key allocations include N$29.5 million for road and street infrastructure, N$19.3 million for bulk wastewater infrastructure, and N$19 million for design and construction. – New Era

Namibia, Angola revive N$22bn Baynes dam interest. Namibia and Angola have announced plans to resurrect work on the controversial Baynes hydropower project located at the border between the two countries, which will produce 881 megawatts (MW) of electricity. This after the impact of the project on the environment, and especially the homelands of the Ovahimba people, had been scrutinised in the past. Namibia's mines and energy minister Tom Alweendo was with Angola's energy and water minister João Baptista Borges at the Lauca hydroelectric dam in Angola on Monday, during which it was agreed to resume the 881 MW Baynes binational dam and hydropower project on the lower reaches of the Kunene River on the border between the two neighbouring countries. According to a joint statement issued this week, the decision was already taken on 10 November 2023. – Namibian Sun

ECN targets 1.5 million voters. The Electoral Commission of Namibia (ECN) says it is targeting the registration of 1.5 million of the 1.7 million Namibians eligible to vote. ECN spokesperson Mulauli Siluka yesterday told The Namibian the electoral body could not set a 100% target, but is optimistic that more citizens will register. The general registration of voters began across the country and at Namibian foreign missions on Monday. Over 26,000 voters registered on the first day, with the Khomas region having the highest number of voter registrants, at over 5,000. – The Namibian

SA Economic News

Rand drops with favoured coalition outcome seen in backseat. South African assets were among the world's worst performers on Wednesday, after the African National Congress said it's considering a government comprising several parties, rather than a tie-up with the business-friendly Democratic Alliance. The rand fell as much as 1.2% to 18.9462 per dollar, its weakest level since 26 April, while the yield on 10-year notes rose nine basis points to 12.21% and sovereign dollar bonds sold off.

Company News

High interest rates dampen Ninety One's results. Ninety One – the London Stock Exchange and JSE dual-listed global asset manager – saw its average assets under management (AuM) drop by 8% to £123.9 billion for the full year ended 31 March 2023, it announced on Sens on Wednesday. Net outflows were £9.4 billion, and adjusted operating profit decreased 8% to £190.5 million (2023: £206.9 million). Hendrik du Toit, CEO and founder, ascribed the results, particularly the net flows, to the high interest rate environment, which has depressed the appetite for investment in emerging markets. – Moneyweb

Sygnia reports 9% AuM increase alongside robust earnings growth. Financial services group Sygnia's assets under management and administration (AuMA) increased by 9.1% to R341.3 billion for the six months ended 31 March 2024, the group announced on Sens on Wednesday. Sygnia, headquartered in South Africa but with operations in Europe, recorded basic and headline earnings per share of 100 cents – up 9.7% from the corresponding period in 2023. The group increased revenue by 8.7% to R444.2 million, while after-tax profit grew by 10.2% to R152.5 million compared to R138.4 million in the corresponding period in 2023. – Moneyweb

Trustco's Meya Mining Investment confirms N$14.3bn diamond resource. Trustco Group Holdings Limited says its associate, Meya Mining, released a promising diamond resource estimate for the Meya River Kimberlite Dyke in Sierra Leone. Trustco Group holds a 19.5% stake in Meya Mining. The report confirms a total kimberlite ore of 6.05 million tonnes down to a depth of 800 metres. Trustco's Deputy CEO Quinton van Rooyen said with an assessed in-situ grade of 33 carats per hundred tonnes, this translates to a total of 1.99 million carats valued at US$763 million (N$14.3 billion). "The valuation includes US$104 million (N$1.95 billion) in the indicated category and US$659 million (N$12.34 billion) inferred, based on an average value of US$382 per carat," he said. – The Brief

Vukile declares 'year of outperformance', plans to expand in Portugal. Vukile Property Fund (VKE), which considered a takeover of UK retail landlord Capital & Regional just last month, delivered a bullish financial performance on Wednesday for the year ended March 2024. In what the group described as "a year of outperformance", the retail-focused real estate investment trust (Reit) with assets in SA and Spain declared a final dividend of 72.1 cents per share (cps), taking its total dividends for the year to 124.2cps – a 10.5% increase on the prior year. It said this outperformance was "driven by a clear strategic direction and a laser focus on execution". – Moneyweb
