MSCI's gauge of Asia Pacific shares fell 1.8%, with South Korea's Kospi sliding 8%. Brent crude jumped 4.3% to US$79.25 a barrel as conflicting claims over the status of the Strait of Hormuz fuelled speculation about potential supply disruptions. Spear banks R27m profit on Cape Town buildings, doubles down on industrial property. Spear Reit has turned a tidy profit on two Cape Town buildings it bought less than two years ago, selling them for R108m as it shifts its attention to bigger industrial developments across the Western Cape. The listed property group completed the sale of Hamilton House and Chiappini House in De Waterkant on Monday. It had bought the properties in 2024 as part of a portfolio acquired from Emira Property Fund for R80.75m, meaning the sale has generated a gain of about R27m. – Moneyweb

The Bankers Association of Zimbabwe appealed to the Treasury to abolish a digital tax that's hindering growth and fuelling informalization and tax evasion, according to documents seen by Bloomberg and confirmed by the government and the nation's lenders. "The Intermediated Money Transfer Tax remains a key structural constraint to financial intermediation," the BAZ says in a midterm budget input submission to the Ministry of Finance.

Bank of Botswana Governor Lesego Moseki has renewed calls for Botswana to accelerate import substitution, warning that the country's heavy dependence on imported food and consumer goods is placing significant pressure on foreign exchange reserves while exposing the economy to external shocks. Speaking during the Bank of Botswana Economic Media Briefing last week, Moseki said Botswana's consumption patterns have become one of the biggest drivers of reserve depletion, making economic diversification an urgent priority.
