International Market Wrap

Another report showing softer-than-anticipated inflation drove stocks and bonds higher as Wall Street traders further dialed back wagers on Federal Reserve interest-rate increases. The limited fallout from the Iran war on prices bolstered the view that the Fed will have room to delay any potential tightening move. Money markets continued to fully price in a rate hike this year, but not before December. Short-dated Treasuries outperformed. The S&P 500 saw a second straight day of gains, though a gauge of chipmakers lost 2.1%. Semiconductor stocks fell across Asia, dragging regional equities lower, as investors became more skeptical that the artificial intelligence-driven rally can withstand lofty valuations. Oil declined.

Land acquisition delays threaten Neckartal irrigation scheme rollout. The development of the multi-billion Namibian dollar, Neckartal Dam Irrigation Scheme continues to face challenges, including resistance from some landowners to sell identified portions of farmland and a lack of dedicated funding for land acquisition, according to the ministry of agriculture, fisheries, water and land reform (MAFWLR). The project aims to create 11,000 jobs. The ministry said these challenges have slowed progress in securing all the land required to fully implement the irrigation project, despite the completion of the Neckartal Dam and its handover to NamWater. – Windhoek Observer

Supermarket Income Reit aims to raise R2.2bn in acquisition drive. Fundraising comes as the group trades at a premium to net asset value after expansion. Supermarket Income Real Estate Investment Trust (Reit) is turning to shareholders for £100m (about R2.2bn) to accelerate an acquisition spree that underscores growing investor appetite for grocery property, one of the few commercial real estate sectors still delivering dependable income growth in an uncertain market. The London- and JSE-listed real estate investment trust plans to use the capital to acquire nine supermarket and grocery distribution assets worth £216m, extending a strategy that has seen it rapidly sealed its portfolio while positioning itself as the UK's largest listed landlord of omnichannel supermarkets. – Business Day

Angola remains in talks about a potential investment in De Beers and wants a stake large enough to help shape the company's strategy, Petroleum and Mineral Resources Minister Diamantino Azevedo said. The government is seeking a shareholding that would allow it "to sit at the table," help shape the company's strategy and participate in executive-level discussions, rather than a controlling stake, Azevedo said Wednesday at a Doing Business Angola conference in Lisbon.
