Meatco undersells meat by N$4.0 billion. Cash-strapped beef parastatal Meatco undersold its export meat products by a massive N$4.0 billion between 2018 and 2023, according to the Bank of Namibia (BoN). During this five-year period, its local competitors who sell meat to the same markets raked in billions of dollars and continue to be financially sound, while Meatco relies heavily on government bailouts because it cannot fund its own operations. The situation is so dire that Meatco's subsidiary in the United Kingdom (UK) is under liquidation. A BoN analysis shows that during this period, Meatco could have received approximately N$6.1 billion instead of N$2.1 billion for the meat products it exported. - Namibian Sun

Shali Mining makes rare earth discovery. Shali Mining has announced the discovery of a rare earth deposit in southern Namibia, and said it holds the potential to uplift the country as a rare earth's hub. Making the announcement this week, the company said it marks a pivotal moment for Namibia's resource sector, as the recent revelation of the deposit's extraordinary mineralisation grade - particularly Neodymium oxide (Nd2O3) and Praseodymium oxide (Pr2O3) at an impressive 1.8%, coupled with an initial estimated resource of 850 million tonnes - sent shockwaves of excitement throughout the global mining industry. "We are extremely excited about the Twyfelskupje deposit and are looking forward to the start of a major drilling campaign this year," Shali Mining chairman Wilhelm Shali said. - Market Watch

South Africa's Kganyago doesn't see rate cuts amid sticky prices. South African Central Bank Governor Lesetja Kganyago ruled out cutting interest rates while inflation remains persistent. The South African Reserve Bank has held its benchmark interest rate unchanged at a 14-year-high of 8.25% since May 2023 and is expected to do so again when it meets next week. While inflation moderated toward the end of last year, the Reserve Bank has repeatedly said it is not convinced that price pressures are slowing to the midpoint of its 3% to 6% target band in a sustainable manner.

Company News

Shareholder concerns about rights dilution sway Ninety One. Shareholders of London and Cape Town-based asset manager Ninety One have raised concerns about the dilution of their rights and investments, with 20% of them voting against the general authority to issue ordinary shares for cash in terms of the listings requirements of the local bourse. "The board recognises shareholder concerns regarding the dilution of their rights and investments and reiterates that it now has no intention to issue new shares under the general authority. Notwithstanding this, the board believes that the general authority is important for maintaining flexibility and optionality in Ninety One's capital management," the company said on Tuesday. "The board will continue to engage with a wide range of shareholders in the coming months to further understand their position on the matter of share issuance under the general authority and will provide an update in the Integrated Annual Report 2024." - Business Day

Raubex challenge of Prasa bridge tender award dismissed. Raubex Construction, part of the JSE-listed construction group Raubex, has failed in its attempt to challenge the award by the Passenger Rail Agency of South Africa (Prasa) of a tender to a contractor for the demolition, design and construction of a new railroad bridge in Boksburg. Raubex applied to the High Court in Johannesburg for an urgent interim interdict to prevent Prasa from implementing the 10-month tender contract. The application was heard on 29 November 2023 by Judge N Redman, who dismissed the application with costs and struck the case from the urgent role because he was not satisfied that Raubex had established that the matter should be dealt with on an urgent basis. - Moneyweb

Thungela sees 'limited impact' from Transnet train derailment. Thungela Resources does not expect a derailment on SA's main coal export line to significantly impact its operations. State-owned freight rail operator Transnet was on Tuesday still working to clear the line to Richards Bay, the country's major coal export port, after two trains collided on Sunday, the utility said. It did not say what caused the accident or when services would be restored. Transnet said no serious injuries were reported after the incident, but that the disruption of services to Richards Bay would throttle mineral shipments already constrained by locomotive shortages as well as rampant cable theft and vandalism of infrastructure. - Business Day

Trustco offers US fund shares to boost finances. Trustco Group Holdings has offered an equity investment of up to N$950 million to United States (US) fund manager Riskowitz Value Fund LP (RVF). If RVF, a long-time Trustco collaborator, chooses to exercise this option, the group would solidify its role as a key foreign investor in the company. This injection of funds is expected to accelerate Trustco's ongoing value creation initiatives, including share buybacks and the distribution of dividends. "These shareholder actions allow Trustco to convert national potential into investment opportunities and shareholder returns, and reinforces our progressive trajectory and diversification strategy," Trustco deputy chief executive Quinton van Rooyen says. He says Trustco will channel this investment into innovations that empower more co-investors to secure their financial futures and reward shareholders and Namibians in general. Founding and managing member of RV Sean Riskowitz says the fund manager is dedicated to supporting. - The Namibian
