International Market Wrap

Treasuries extended recent declines and Asian bonds followed as concerns over US government spending and a flood of long-dated debt weighed on sentiment, while higher oil prices stoked fears of inflation. Stocks and equity futures both fell. US 30-year yields rose two basis points to 5.32% — a level last seen in June 2007. Japan's 10-year yields climbed to multi-decade highs amid a global selloff that's pushing up borrowing costs. Oil prices advanced as prospects for peace in the Middle East dimmed, reviving concerns that prolonged geopolitical tensions will threaten supplies. Global benchmark Brent rose 0.6% to US$91.45 a barrel after President Donald Trump said he wasn't interested in extending the expiring agreement with Iran and fighting flared anew in Lebanon.

Andrada secures funding for Uis mine ore-sorting expansion. Aim-listed Andrada Mining's subsidiary, Uis Tin Mining Company (UTMC), has executed definitive agreements for loan facilities totalling N$98-million, or about £4.4-million, with Bank Windhoek and the Development Bank of Namibia (DBN). The loan facilities comprise two equal N$49-million, or about £2.2-million, tranches and Andrada says all conditions precedent governing loan disbursement have been met to the satisfaction of both lenders. The loan facilities complete UTMC's funding requirements for the planned operational upgrades at the Uis mine and enable the company to progress the ore-sorting expansion into execution. – Mining Weekly

Auas Road Phase 3 kicks off, targets major expansion over next 12 months. The third phase of the Auas Road upgrading project has officially kicked off, with sections of the key southern Windhoek route set to be expanded to as many as three lanes in each direction, in some sections over the next 12 months. According to Lithon Engineering, the project's technical expertise provider, Phase 3 will convert sections of Auas Road into a dual carriageway while upgrading major intersections to ease traffic congestion between the Southern Industrial Area and the southern parts of Windhoek, including Prosperita and the Grove Mall area. – The Brief

Amutse probes NamPower MD post re-advertisement. Modestus Amutse has demanded an explanation from NamPower after it reopened the recruitment drive for its managing director position, despite five qualified candidates having already applied. In a letter dated 11 August, Amutse asked NamPower to explain why the position was being advertised afresh and 'what exactly transpired' during the initial recruitment process. Continued from page 1 The minister told Namibian Sun that the decision caught him by surprise, particularly because NamPower had previously approached him seeking approval to commence the recruitment process on the grounds of urgency. "It's very surprising to me that they are re-advertising. I mean, you have five candidates that have qualified and duly applied, what more do you want?" the minister said. He added: "Nam Power wrote to me months ago asking me to approve their intention to advertise the position, citing urgency, and because we do not want a leadership vacuum, I approved it, and now this." He said the decision had since prompted calls from members of the public questioning the motivation behind reopening the application process. – Namibian Sun

Breakthrough as India opens door to South African citrus after 10-year wait. South Africa's citrus industry is cheering over a significant breakthrough, nearly 10 years in the making. India finally agreed to include additional treatment options for fresh citrus fruit from its fellow Brics member, potentially opening up a market of nearly 1.5-billion people. The agreement announced on Monday is a step forward as the industry looks to grow its market in countries such as India and China and reduce its reliance on Europe, which takes in about 36% of South Africa's citrus but imposes what local producers call "unnecessary and unscientific plant health requirements". These include zero tolerance for pests such as citrus black spot and false codling moth, compulsory cold treatment and strict inspection and interception rules. The Citrus Growers' Association of Southern Africa (CGA), however, said it would continue to push for an improvement in the tariff conditions which still leave it at a disadvantage in the Indian market. – Business Day

Balwin shareholders back R1.1bn buyout as developer heads for delisting. Balwin Properties is moving closer to leaving the JSE after shareholders overwhelmingly backed a R1.1bn buyout that will take South Africa's largest sectional-title developer private. Shareholders representing about 79% of eligible voting rights participated in a meeting on Monday with 98% of votes cast in favour of the deal, clearing the way for the proposed transaction to proceed. The transaction will see a consortium including the Public Investment Corporation (PIC), acting on behalf of the Government Employees Pension Fund (GEPF), and Balwin's founding investors acquire about 49.7% of the company at R4.35 a share. – Business Day

RCL Foods expects earnings slump as sugar and pet food falter. RCL Foods expects a sharp drop in earnings for the year to end-June, with its sugar and pet food businesses bearing the brunt of softer trading conditions. The weaker performance was "largely due to a significant decline in profitability" in its sugar business and associate Royal Eswatini Sugar, alongside a downturn in its pet food division, the company said in a trading statement on Monday. The food producer said headline earnings per share (HEPS) from total operations are expected to fall 30%-35% from the previous year, while underlying HEPS, which excludes material one-off costs, is expected to fall 25%-30%. Sugar came under pressure as a surge in deep-sea imports, amid a lack of effective tariff protection, eroded local market volumes and weighed on profitability, it said. – Business Day

Spar chair and deputy resign with immediate effect. Spar Group has announced the immediate resignation of independent non-executive chair Mike Bosman and deputy chair Shirley Zinn, effective 17 August 2026. To maintain continuity, current independent non-executive director and Risk Committee chair Lwazi Koyana has been appointed interim chair of the board with immediate effect. At the same time, a formal succession search gets underway. Both Bosman and Zinn concluded that stepping down is in the best interests of the company. Bosman assumed the chairmanship in December 2022 during a period of governance strain, later serving as executive chair from January to October 2023 following the retirement of the former group CEO, Brett Botten. Zinn joined the board in February 2023 and became deputy chair in June 2023, leading the remuneration committee, where she introduced malus and clawback policies alongside revised minimum shareholding rules for executives. – Moneyweb

Thungela maintains production guidance on anticipated stronger second half performance. Thermal coal producer and exporter Thungela Resources delivered an improved performance in the first half of this year, despite difficult market conditions and a stronger rand weighing on export benefits, CEO Moses Madondo said on August 17. During a conference call to discuss the company's interim results of the six months ended June 30, he highlighted a continued focus on maintaining safe operations, driving operational excellence and applying a disciplined approach to capital allocation underpinning this performance. – Mining Weekly

SADC News

Hichilema wins second term as Zambia bets on copper-led growth. Zambian President Hakainde Hichilema has won a second five-year term with 61.4% of the vote, giving him a renewed mandate to pursue an investment-led economic programme centred on sharply expanding copper production after restructuring the country's debt. The Electoral Commission of Zambia declared the 64-year-old incumbent the winner early on 18 August after he secured 2.97mn votes. His main opposition challenger, Brian Mundubile, received about 38%, or 1.86mn votes. Hichilema campaigned on the economic stabilisation achieved since he took office in 2021, when Zambia was struggling with the aftermath of its 2020 sovereign default. His government restored relations with international lenders, completed a US$1.7bn IMF programme and largely restructured about US$13bn of external debt.
