International Market Wrap

Treasuries extended gains fuelled by US plans to buy back longer-maturity debt, boosting sentiment and lifting Asian bonds and stocks. The dollar steadied after sliding to a three-month low. The US 30-year yield fell one basis point to 5.18% after sliding nine basis points on Wednesday. The benchmark 10-year yield dropped by a similar amount to 4.63%, extending its six-basis-point decline in the previous session. A Bloomberg index of Treasuries due in 20 years and above had jumped 1.7% Wednesday, its biggest one-day gain since February 2025. Bonds in Japan, Australia and New Zealand also rose after the US Treasury said it would at least double the size of its bond buybacks, which would curb yields on long-term bonds that had climbed to multi-decade highs.

Cabinet blocks US AI crop-monitoring tender. The government has cancelled a N$40 million contract awarded to an American technology company to deploy an artificial intelligence and satellite system for monitoring crops across the country, after the Cabinet ordered the contract to be scrapped. Cabinet's decision, made this week, has raised questions about where it draws the line on possibly interfering in government tenders that politicians have over the years distanced themselves from. – The Namibian

Namibia eyes oil-driven growth across logistics, manufacturing and services. Namibia wants its emerging petroleum industry to drive industrialisation and create opportunities across the wider economy rather than develop into an isolated sector focused mainly on exporting crude oil, Vice President Lucia Witbooi has said. Speaking at the official opening of the Namibia Oil and Gas Conference 2026 in Windhoek on Wednesday, Witbooi said the country must use petroleum development to build domestic industries, businesses and skills that can continue generating economic value beyond the lifespan of its oil resources. "Petroleum must not become an enclave industry operating alongside the Namibian economy. – The Brief

Government reassures investors on oil industry. The government has reassured oil and gas investors that policy uncertainty will not derail the country's most advanced offshore oil projects. Speaking at the Namibia Oil and Gas Conference in Windhoek yesterday, mines and energy minister Modestus Amutse called Namibia "a partner that keeps its word". Fall in food and fuel prices cools inflation. Annual consumer inflation for July was announced at 4.3%, down from the two-year high of 5.0% it reached in June, with a considerable moderation in goods inflation and a shallower decline in services inflation. Statistics South Africa (Stats SA) said in its release for July 2026 that the consumer price index (CPI) increased by 0.2% month on month in July 2026. Headline inflation cooled for the first time in five months as pressures in municipal tariffs and fuel prices eased. "The main contributors to the 4.3% annual inflation rate were housing and utilities at 5.2% and contributing 1.3 percentage points; transport at 8.9% and contributing 1.2 percentage points; and insurance and financial services at 5.7% and contributing o.6 of a percentage point," Stats SA said. – Business Day

Yahua's Zimbabwe Lithium-Sulfate Plant to Come Online Next Year. China's Sichuan Yahua Industrial Group Co. plans to start operating a US$200 million lithium-sulfate plant in Zimbabwe in the second quarter of next year amid a push by the southern African country to reap more value from its natural resources. "Everything is on track, our construction is good," Turkey Liang, chief operations officer for the company's local unit, said in an interview in the mining settlement of Kamativi, western Zimbabwe. "Our design has been done and equipment has been manufactured and is on its way." Yahua runs the Kamativi mine in a joint venture with the state. The mineral-rich country, which has seen a wave of investment from Chinese firms, is calling on operators to build processing facilities locally before it introduces a ban on lithium concentrate exports in January. The move is aimed at boosting output of higher-value products at home and curbing illegal shipments.
