Local News

Government, in partnership with four participating commercial banking institutions and with the financial support of the Bank of Namibia (BoN), on Friday announced the start of the Covid-19 Small and Medium Enterprise (SME) loan scheme to the tune of N$500 million. Speaking at the launch, finance minister ipumbu Shiimi pointed out that the scheme is designed to assist SMEs that are hard-hit as a result of the economic and social impact of the Covid-19 pandemic. "The prevailing Covid-19 pandemic has not only exposed the vulnerability of small businesses and start-ups to external shocks, but it also reminded us of the importance of this sector in the economy and its role in supporting the livelihood of a large number of our people," he said. -Namibian Sun

The Namibian Ports Authority last week recorded 413 truck visits in one day, which seamlessly went through its terminal gates as the trucks were either delivering or picking up cargo from the Port terminals. This is the first of its kind and it bears directly on the effort s and resources invested by the entity in technology as the port continues to deliver on its promise of service above self to its valuable clients. According to Richard Mutonga Ibwima, Manager Terminals at Namport, the increase of truck visits is attributed to non adherence of vessels to the arrival schedule to the other ports. He further accredited the milestone to the dedication, teamwork and constant communication among stakeholders who are involved across the value-chain and the timely attendance to all trucks -Namibia Economist

The Namibia Financial Institutions Supervisory Authority (Namfisa) has for more than two months refused to provide any information on insurance claims of businesses devastated by the impact of Covid-19. Following several complaints by businesses that their business interruption claims weren't settled by local short-term insurance companies, Market Watch on 7 September sent a list of questions to Namfisa. Market Watch asked the regulator whether it was aware of complaints that short-term insurers providing business interruption cover were dragging their feet to pay out claims and if Namfisa was actively monitoring the situation, given the urgency of the businesses' financial predicament. -Namibian Sun

Rentals are down again, as people's preferences have changed from renting to owning properties. Property prices are also at their lowest, leaving a market full of landlords seeking for tenants. A recently released FNB Rental Index confirms this. In it, it is reported that rental advertisement volumes, which indicate the availability of properties in the market, almost doubled on a quarterly basis, increasing by 80% to 5,058 units in the third quarter of 2020 compared to the preceding quarter. Additionally, the national weighted average rent price is now also down to N$7,091 at the end of September 2020 compared to N$7,164 recorded over the same period in 2019. FNB's analyst Frans Uusiku said this tells of what is happening, "[it] could partly be attributed to cancellations of rental contracts due to affordability issues and the advent of the narrative that owning a property instead of renting is increasingly seen to be gaining traction as house prices tumble". -The Namibian

SA Economic News

South Africa fell deeper into junk territory after Moody's Investors Service and Fitch Ratings lowered the country's credit ratings on Friday. The ratings cuts come after the coronavirus pandemic pummelled the government's finances and pushed the economy into its longest recession in almost three decades. Finance Minister Tito Mboweni said on Saturday the downgrades will have immediate implications for borrowing costs and will constrain the fiscal framework. Still, South Africa had already dropped out of the FTSE World Government Bond Index after Moody's removed the nation's last investment-grade rating in March. That may reduce the impact of the downgrades, according to Razia Khan, chief economist for Africa and the Middle East at Standard Chartered Bank.

Company News

Sasol's shareholders have voted overwhelmingly in favour of the sale of a 50% stake in the base chemicals operations at its Lake Charles Chemicals Project (LCCP) to LyondellBasell Industries. The deal was approved at a general meeting ahead of its annual general meeting on Friday and followed news earlier in the week that the last unit at Lake Charles had finally come online. The Low Density Polyethylene Unit (LDPU) will form part of the joint venture that Sasol is entering with LyondellBasell, which is paying US$2 billion for the stake. The transaction excludes Sasol's US performance chemicals business as well as its legacy base chemicals operations in that country. -InceConnect

Consumers will soon be able to try the taste of Spur at home as one of the country's largest restaurant chains launches a trial of meal kits to prepare and eat at home. The company, the brands of which include RocoMamas and John Dory's, is also testing new delivery-only brands and launching online payments in-store. Covid-19 lockdowns have resulted in fewer diners going to restaurants, causing growth of delivery services as people want to enjoy restaurant food at home. -Business Day

Tiger Brands has reported a sharp decline in full-year earnings after some of its operations were impacted by Covid-19 and exports were held back by a dispute with a former distributor in Nigeria. However, it's sweetened its payout to shareholders with a special dividend and says a rejig of its operating model should help reverse the trend of declining profitability. The fast-moving consumer goods group said it was able to keep most of its operations running due to its role in ensuring food supply during the initial lockdown periods. This resulted in strong cash flow generation, supporting its balance sheet. Still, it says its results for the year to end-September have been disappointing, reflecting its challenges in maintain margins in what was an already difficult consumer environment even before the Covid-19 pandemic. -InceConnect

Santam plans to appeal a high court judgement last week that ordered it to settle business interruption claims resulting from the Covid-19 lockdown. The Western Cape High Court was ruling on a case brought against the insurer by Ma-Afrika Hotels and Stellenbosch Kitchen over the Contingent Business Interruption (CBI) cover they had through the short-term insurer. It ordered Santam to pay Ma-Afrika's Covid-19-related claims for 18 months, the entire policy period. The decision followed an earlier judgement against Momentum Metropolitan Holdings' subsidiary Guardrisk, which was taken to court by Cape Town restaurant Café Chameleon after turning down its CBI claims. Guardrisk has now turned to the Supreme Court of Appeal. -InceConnect

Texton Property Fund is the first real estate investment trust (Reit) in the R300bn SA listed property sector to declare it cannot pay a dividend at all for 2020, after failing to meet liquidity tests. The company, which owns R5.1bn worth of assets in SA and the UK, made the announcement in a business update on Friday. -Business Day

SADC

Police chiefs in Tanzania and Mozambique have agreed to launch joint operations against fighters linked to Islamic State whose three-year-old insurgency recently spilled over the border between the two southeast African countries. Tanzania's Inspector General of Police, Simon Sirro, and his Mozambican counterpart, Bernardino Rafael, met on Friday in the southern Tanzanian border town of Mtwara, according to a police statement. The meeting came a month after about 300 suspected Islamist militants crossed over from Mozambique and attacked Mtwara's Kitaya village, killing an unspecified number of people.
