International Market Wrap

US stocks fell, capping a third weekly decline, as disappointing corporate results and prospects for aggressive interest-rate hikes weighed on sentiment. The S&P 500 slid 2.8%, the biggest decline since 7 March, tipping the benchmark to a weekly decline in the longest run of losses for the period since January. Declines in the tech-heavy Nasdaq 100 left it down more than 9% so far in April, poised for the worst month since 2008. Meanwhile, the market's so-called fear gauge - the Cboe Volatility Index or VIX - jumped to a one-month high. The dollar rose to the highest level since June 2020. MSCI's Asia-Pacific gauge fell for the sixth session in seven with sharp declines in Hong Kong and China.

Local News

AR land bill scary – NAU. The Namibia Agricultural Union (NAU) says the proposed bill on the regulation of foreign ownership of land in Namibia by the Affirmative Repositioning (AR) movement, if promulgated in its current form, would be unconstitutional and may impact current and future investments by foreigners. The NAU said this during its presentation on the bill to the parliamentary standing committee on natural resources last week. AR has urged members of parliament to do something useful for their people by passing a bill prohibiting foreign nationals from owning land in Namibia. The movement also wants legislation to reaffirm, and give power, control and ownership of the land to previously disadvantaged Namibian citizens. – Namibian Sun

10 SOEs earmarked for N$746.8m in Govt subsidies. Ten public enterprises are earmarked to receive N$746.8 million in total as a government subsidy for the 2022/23 financial year, the Ministry of Public Enterprises announced on Thursday. The subsidies according to figures shared in Parliament by Acting Public Enterprises minister, Ipumbu Shiimi, will take up more than 90% of the ministry's budget of over N$790.67 million. The Namibia Wildlife Resorts will receive the biggest subsidy of over N$188 million, while rail operator TransNamib, which is currently faced with a liquidation threat over an Air Namibia debt, will get the second biggest allocation of N$175 million. The Namibia Institute of Pathology is allocated N$107 million followed by the Agricultural Business Development Agency (AgriBusDev) with a N$75 million allocation. – The Brief

Governments urged to be economically agile. In an attempt to lessen the burden of recent high fuel and food prices, close to 40 countries have reduced consumption taxes, and 30 have introduced price freezes. Namibia, however, continues to consult. The International Monetary Fund (IMF) has advised countries to adopt agile fiscal policies and safeguard the citizens against high prices. In a recent IMF report, titled 'Governments Need Agile Fiscal Policies as Food and Fuel Prices Spike', the fund said if attended to early, accommodating policies could avoid unrest, although doing so may be difficult. – The Namibian

Ministry of Agriculture to issue Green Scheme RFP in May. The Ministry of Agriculture, Water and Land Reform plans to issue a Request for Proposals (RFP) for the Green Schemes in May, as it moves ahead to outsource some of the projects to the private sector. The development comes as incessant challenges at the Agricultural Business Development Agency (AgriBusDev) has seen Cabinet approving the cancellation of the memorandum of understanding between the Ministry of Agriculture and the government owned entity established in 2011 to monitor and create an ideal environment for achieving the objectives of the green schemes, as defined by the green scheme policy of 2008. "As per Cabinet decision, it was resolved that some of the Green Schemes Projects will be outsourced to the private sector through a competitive bidding process. An interinstitutional committee is established to assess the status of the schemes and formulate the Request for Proposals (RFP), with the first set stage of the RFPs expected to be published not later than May 2022," Agriculture minister, Calle Schlettwein said. – The Brief

SA Economic News

Operations at South Africa's Port of Durban have slowly restarted, after deadly floods forced a suspension of sub-Saharan Africa's biggest container hub, KwaZulu-Natal province's Premier Sihle Zikalala said in a briefing on Sunday. "The port has gradually resumed operations to discharge, and food, medical supplies and petrol has been prioritized, said Zikalala." Durban, which is the biggest city in the KwaZulu-Natal province, experienced the heaviest rains in six decades.

Company News

New investment firm Altvest to list on Cape Town Stock Exchange. Altvest, a private equity firm that will allow retail investors to invest as little as R100 in private game farms, wine estates and high-end art, will list on the Cape Town Stock Exchange in May. Altvest, was founded in part by investment banker Koshiek Karan, who has a huge social media following due to his humorous tweets and broadcasts that teach financial literacy and expose scams. The new company is aimed at democratising investment in luxury-asset classes, usually reserved for the wealthy, in a "fully regulated environment". Altvest will buy pricey assets such as art and luxury properties and sell fractional ownership of these, as more and more ordinary people turn to investing. – Business Day

SAB owner set to lose R15.5 billion on Russia joint venture exit. South African Breweries (SAB) owner AB InBev is selling its stake in its joint venture with Turkish beer maker Anadolu Efes in Russia, as that country's invasion of Ukraine continues. In an announcement on Friday, AB InBev said it is in talks to sell the non-controlling stake to Anadolu Efes. "As a result, AB InBev is de-recognising the investments in AB InBev Efes and will report a US$1.1 billion (about R15.5 billion) non-cash impairment charge in non-underlying share of results of associates as part of its first quarter results announcement," said the group. – Fin24

Letshego launches digital platform. Clients of Letshego Bank Namibia can now apply for loans through digital channels. This was said by chief executive officer Ester Kali when she launched the bank's new app, called 'LetsGo Digital Mall' at the B1 mall in Katutura on Thursday. "This provides additional opportunities to clients to engage us 24/7, with the ultimate aim being that personal branch visits become a rare occurrence." – The Namibian

MAS wants to expand footprint in Central and Eastern Europe. Real-estate company MAS has started negotiations to take full control of development joint venture PKM Development's six subsidiaries, which owns six commercial retail centres in Romania. MAS is continuing to expand into Central and Eastern Europe (CEE). MAS, a green property owner, wants to acquire 100% of the share capital, the money invested directly in a company by its shareholders, and shareholder loans of the six subsidiaries, the company said in a statement on Friday. – Business Day

Vendata still keen on Namibian smelter. Vedanta Zinc International (VZI) says it's still moving ahead with plans to set up a smelter in Namibia. "A prefeasibility study is under way for the setting up of a smelter, and refining in Namibia remains on the cards, with the cost of power being key," VZI Executive Director and CFO Pushpender Singla said. Singla made the comments while speaking to South African media after the company approved a R7-billion investment into the Gamsberg Phase 2 expansion project in the Northern Cape, which will double the mine and plant capacity from four-million tons to eight-million tons a year. The Skorpion Zinc mine and refinery which were acquired by Vedanta Resources Plc from Anglo in 2010, having been in operation since 2003, were placed under care and maintenance in May 2020. – The Brief
